What is this product?

Type: UCITS

Term: There is no fixed term for this Sub-Fund.

Objectives: The investment objective of the Sub-Fund is to achieve medium to long-term growth by investing in units of funds that may be classified as alternative funds which pursue a diversified range of alternative and absolute return strategies (i.e. strategies that seek to provide an absolute return in all market environments but that impose liquidity, transparency, regulatory oversight and strict risk management). Investment in underlying funds will be made based on the examination of a number of factors including the investment policy and objectives, investment strategy and process, performance track record, team structure, and risk management. The manager uses in-house qualitative and quantitative techniques to evaluate, select and perform on-going monitoring of underlying funds and their investment managers. Throughout the process, underlying funds will be compared to other available opportunities in the market place. The Sub-Fund may also invest materially in money market instruments. The Sub-Fund may utilize derivatives for investment purposes, hedging and risk reduction. The recommended holding period has been selected as the link between the risk and the potential returns of the Sub-Fund and can be fully appreciated only over the recommended holding period. The Sub-Fund is actively managed. The Sub-Fund does not aim to track the performance of a benchmark. Portfolio composition is determined based on active and discretionary investment decisions and choices. There can be no guarantee that the investment objective will actually be attained and investors are explicitly warned that this Sub-Fund is not a capital guaranteed product. Investors can redeem their shares on the relevant Dealing Day as set out in the prospectus. Investors can ask for full or partial redemption of the shares held.

Intended retail investor:

- With a basic knowledge of investing in funds and no or limited experience of investing in the Sub-Fund or similar funds
- Who understand the risk of losing some or all of the capital invested
- This Sub-Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money before the recommended holding period

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

- The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because the Sub-Fund is not able to pay you.
- We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a low risk class.
- This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact the capacity of the Sub-Fund to pay you.
- This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.
- If the ICAV is not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

What happens if Fineco Asset Management DAC is unable to pay out?

If the Manager were to become insolvent, the assets of the Sub-Fund should not be affected because they are held by the Depositary, which is legally required to keep the assets separate from its own assets and those of the Manager. However, if the Depositary were to become insolvent, there may be a financial loss for the Sub-Fund, but this should be minimized because the assets are held separate to the Depositary's own assets. If the Sub-Fund is closed or dissolved, the assets will be sold and the investors will receive a share of the proceeds, which may be more or less than their initial investment. The ICAV is not a guaranteed UCITS and as a result there is no guarantee scheme in place which provides a guaranteed rate of return. The Sub-Fund does not provide compensation or operate a guarantee against any loss in the value of an investment, the funds or any income generated.
